

Alina Blaga
Regional Policy Lead

"I joined WWF CEE in May 2020 as Regional Policy Coordinator.

I know that changes in policies can impact the environment and people's lives for a long time - both in a positive or a negative way. WWF gave me access to tools and an international team of experts that make it possible to bring scientific evidence and realities from the field forward, and push for positive change.

I enjoy upcycling and since 2011 me and a community of makers in Romania have organized numerous national and international upcycling workshops for kids and adults where we talk about environmental topics. Creating makes the conversation easier and the lessons stick to the participants."

together possible.